

Corporate Sponsorship

The American Academy of Urgent Care Medicine Corporate Sponsorship Program provides excellent opportunities for you to reach professionals in the Urgent Care community.

The American Academy of Urgent Care Medicine (AAUCM) is a private, non-profit corporation which is self-funded from the annual dues paid by our members, via advertisers, and through partnerships with various corporations that provide benefit programs for the members.

To help reach our goals and to provide the best support to the Urgent Care community, the AAUCM also looks to corporations such as yours for financial support.

By contributing to our efforts, you will not only showcase your company in support of the specialty of Urgent Care, but will also be supporting projects that ultimately benefit your clientele.

There are four levels of sponsorship from which to choose, giving you the opportunity to select the option which suits you best.
